

BLACK TERROR CASTING BREAKDOWN

Nzingha: Late twenties or early thirties. College Education. Strong, well-muscled, and stern. He speaks in soft tones.

Ahmed: Somewhat younger (20s). Full of fire. Could be a good leader if he would calm down and check things out.

Keusi: Full name, Keusi Kifo (“Black Death”). He is in his mid-to late 20s and is a war vet. He is always a man who knows whereof he speaks

M’Balialia: (mid-to late 20s): name for M’Balialia Camara, a Black woman who is known in Africa as a woman whose death was one of the sparks of the Guinean drive for independence from France. The sister is strong, determined, and a devoted revolutionary. She is not unfeminine, but displays her womanness only when she feels it suits her.

Geronimo: (early to mid-30s): A fiery revolutionary. Leader of the local chapter of the American Liberation Front. Quick-tempered; a flair for the dramatic. At times he seems almost unreal.

Chauncey Radcliffe: Middle-aged (40s). A moderate Black man who thinks he is doing the right thing.

Others: Three brothers, a sister, other members of the Black Terrorists, and white-sounding voices coming in over the radio.
